WHO WE ARE

Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens is manufactured under exclusive license by CT Acquisitions LLC, manufacturer of Danver Stainless Outdoor Kitchens. Danver has been manufacturing stainless steel cabinets for outdoor kitchens since the late 1990s. By showcasing color, style and design and inspiring entertainment, culinary creativity and leisure living, Danver established itself as a leader in transforming outdoor entertainment from a simple barbecue island to a fully functional outdoor entertainment space, in which the outdoor kitchen is central to the space.

As a testament to Danver's industry leadership, when the premier outdoor furniture manufacturer, Brown Jordan, expanded their presence in the outdoor living market with outdoor kitchens, they came to the experts at Danver. Today, Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens delivers uniquely distinctive outdoor kitchens that are both durable and beautiful. From new door styles to standard soft-close hinges to innovative designs, Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchen cabinets continue to evolve in quality, engineering and style based on input we receive from designers, builders, landscape architects and other disciplines who rely on us to provide unique signature outdoor living spaces to discerning homeowners.

"Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens offers all the style and design details you would hope for on the interior of your home, only completely functional and appropriate for your outdoor space! As a California designer, we are constantly creating cooking, eating, living and lounging spaces outdoors to expand our clients' square footage—the products that Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens offers support those designs in the most thoughtful of ways through construction, aesthetic and customer service, too."

OUTDOOR LIVING

The kitchen still remains the focal point of casual entertaining, only today the kitchen has moved outdoors. The popularity of outdoor living has homeowners focused on the color, style and design of the whole entertaining space, rather than a traditional stone or stucco barbecue island where guests watch the host cook.

As these traditional backyard patios evolve into luxurious outdoor living spaces, Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens leads the way. With a full line of stainless steel cabinets, powder coated with a rich palette of colors and realistic wood grains applied to a variety of exclusive door styles, every kitchen can be uniquely designed for a signature look.

POWDER COAT FINISHES

Each component of our powder coated doors is painted prior to assembly, eliminating direct exposure of the stainless steel to the environment. This hinders the chance for rust over time and provides a nearly maintenance-free finish. Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens' powder coat paint palette is a 10-color exclusive line selected to match Brown Jordan furniture. Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens offers wood grain powder coat finishes, enhancing the design quality of your outdoor living space by providing the look and style of real wood without the wear and maintenance. Every Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchen is manufactured and painted in the U.S., guaranteeing the quality, durability and longevity you expect.

BARBECUE HOODS

The ability to design an outdoor kitchen with the same flexibility as its indoor counterpart presents the occasional challenge – such as ventilating smoke. To overcome the challenge, Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens offers grill hoods. These extra depth hoods are designed perfectly for lanais and the transitional “California” or “Florida” rooms with covered spaces, growing in popularity nationwide.

The 304-grade stainless steel hoods complement the rest of the kitchen, whether the cabinets are powder coated or traditional stainless steel. They are available in 36”, 42”, 48”, 60” and 66” widths. With the optional muffler, the sound can be reduced, enhancing the comforts of outdoor living.

DEKTON COUNTERTOPS

The two elements that bring together a kitchen, indoors or outdoors, are the cabinets and the countertops. These elements need to hold up against time and climate, but also have the right look and feel to complement your landscape. Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens can accommodate nearly any type of countertop you want in your space, but not every countertop is built for outdoor environments.

While granite, concrete and soapstone are familiar countertop materials, it's important to remember to use the correct material for outdoor applications; one that remains structurally sound and maintains its beauty over time. We recommend Dekton® by Cosentino countertops to be paired with our outdoor kitchen cabinets. Their ultra-compact surfaces are designed for exterior use. Dekton surfaces offer UV resistance for color stability outdoors, exceptional strength and high resistance to impacts, scratches and abrasion for use in high-traffic areas and are non-porous requiring no maintenance. Their wide range of colors and finishes, coupled with the diverse cabinet colors and finishes available from Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens, provide an endless variety of styling options to fit your creative needs.

COOKING APPLIANCES

One of the great features of Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens is that our cabinetry is designed to fit any cooking appliance. Whether you have a favorite grill, smoker, side burner or even a pizza oven, rest assured your selection can be incorporated into your new outdoor kitchen with ease.

During our 16+ years of designing outdoor living spaces, we have experienced the development of all types of cooking appliances for the outdoors. That acquired knowledge enables our in-house design team to guide you to the best options based on cooking style and approach to outdoor entertaining.

Although we do not manufacture grills and other cooking appliances, we do distribute a number of quality brands at various price points for the convenience of our clients, making us the perfect one-stop shop. We can drop ship the cabinetry and appliances to the project site for ease of installation.

BARTENDING/COOLING APPLIANCES

The convenience of a refrigerator integrated into your outdoor kitchen is a must, regardless of climate. Models and brands perform at different levels of effectiveness based on the surrounding environment. There are also a variety of styles and features available to suit your taste and needs, including two-drawer units, glass fronts and those with panels to match your Brown Jordan Outdoor Kitchens cabinets. Our in-house experts can guide your decision on brand, features and style.

Bartending systems are among the most popular features in today's outdoor entertainment spaces. Whether you want to add a kegerator, a wine cooler or a complete bartending outfit, we can help complete the project with several options, including sinks and faucets.

As with the cooking appliances, we distribute a variety of cooling and bartending appliances. Regardless of your choices, your entertainment space will be functional and look fabulous.
