
Appliance Warranty Information

While we are not an appliance manufacturer or dealer, we do offer some items as a convenience. We, however, do not warranty, repair, service or maintain any of the appliances supplied with our cabinetry, nor do we act as a mediator for any appliance related concerns that should arise.

All repairs, service and warranty issues, maintenance items, questions and/or problems with any appliances, {including sinks and faucets}, that we supply, will need to be addressed directly with the respective manufacturer of said appliance.

The following pages consist of customer service and warranty support contact information for the appliance manufacturers' products that we do supply.

Please consult this list and contact the manufacturer directly with any questions or concerns regarding their products.
